

1

Account for

To be the reason for something, or to explain the reason for something

2

Adapt

To change your behaviour so that it is suitable for a new situation

3

Adequate

Enough

4

Admire

To respect or approve of someone or something

5

Adopt

To accept or start using something new

6

Advance

To move forward

B2

DİLKO®

1

Account for Nedenini açıklamak,
hesap vermek

He'd had an argument with Caroline, which accounts for his bad mood this morning.

2

Adapt Ayak uydurmak, uyum
sağlamak

It takes time to adapt to a new working environment.

3

Adequate Yeterince, yeterli

I didn't have adequate time to prepare.

4

Admire Hayranlık duymak, saygı
duymak

I really admire people who can go out and work in such difficult conditions.

5

Adopt Edinmek, benimsemek

We've adopted a new approach because the old ones didn't work.

6

Advance İlerlemek

The car advanced slowly down the street.

7

Affair

A matter that concerns or involves someone

8

Affection

Feelings of love; a person's romantic feelings

9

Affirm

To say that something is true in a confident way

10

Agent

Something (such as a chemical) that is used to produce a particular effect or result

11

Agile

Able to move quickly and easily

12

Alleviate

To reduce the pain, to make (something) less painful, difficult, or severe

B2

DİLKO®

Affair

İlişki, konu

7

This has nothing to do with you. It's not your affair. [=business, concern]

Affection

Sevgi, romantik duygu

8

The two women competed for the affection of the same man.

Affirm

Doğrulamak

9

The two men neither affirmed nor denied their guilt.

Agent

Etkin madde

10

The drug is an effective agent for the treatment of asthma.

Agile

Çevik

11

Leopards are very fast and agile so they catch their prey easily.

Alleviate

Acısını azaltmak,
rahatlatmak

12

The doctor tried to alleviate her suffering by giving her strong painkillers.